ARRAIGNMENT, TRIAL SETTING, AND DISCOVERY ORDER

The Defendant has been arraigned and entered a plea of Not Guilty. ¹

I. TRIAL SETTING

Date of Arraignment	[Date]
Date of this Order	[Date]
Initial Joint Criminal Trial Docket Date	[Date]
Pretrial Conference Date	[Date]
Joint Criminal Trial Docket Date	[Date]

During the arraignment of the Defendant, the Court initially set trial within seventy days. Defense counsel then moved to continue the Initial Joint Criminal Trial Docket Date. The United States Attorney did not oppose the motion. Given the reasons discussed at the arraignment, the Court finds that it would be unreasonable to expect defense counsel to prepare this case adequately for trial before the New Joint Criminal Trial Docket Date, and that failure to grant a continuance would deny defense counsel the reasonable time necessary for effective preparation and, thus, would deny the defendant the right to effective assistance of counsel. The Court finds that the ends of justice served by granting a continuance outweigh the best interest of the public and the Defendant in a speedy trial. Accordingly, the motion for continuance is granted.

The Speedy Trial Act of 1974, as amended, mandates the commencement of the trial of a defendant within seventy days from the defendant's first appearance before a judicial officer of the court in which the charge is pending. In computing the seventy-day time period, the periods of delay set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h) are to be excluded. Any period of delay resulting from a continuance granted at the request of a defendant is excludable if the Court finds the ends of justice served by the taking of such action outweigh the best interests of the public and the defendant(s) in a speedy trial, provided the Court sets forth the reason for such finding. See 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(A).

The continuance does not violate the right to a speedy trial for any codefendant. United States v. Shepard, 462 F.3d 847, 864 (8th Cir. 2006) (citing United States v. Fuller, 942 F.2d 454, 457 (8th Cir. 1991) (“Motions filed by one defendant in a multi-defendant case count as motions filed by all the defendants, and . . . will count as excludable time for all defendants.”)).

Based on the foregoing, Defendant’s oral motion for continuance is granted. This case is removed from the Initial Joint Criminal Jury Trial Docket. The case is reset for trial on the New Joint Criminal Jury Trial Docket listed above. The Court in ordering this case removed from the Initial Joint Criminal Jury Trial Docket is not doing so because of congestion of the Court’s calendar, in accordance with 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(c). Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h), the time between Defendant’s arraignment and the last day of the New Joint Criminal Jury Trial Docket shall be excluded in computing the time within which this trial must commence. Unless the Defendant has entered a plea of guilty, a motion to continue shall be filed, in writing, five business days prior to the pretrial conference. The motion shall propose a new trial date, state whether or not any other party opposes the motion, and provide a reason for the continuance. Counsel are notified that neither a change of plea setting nor the filing of a pretrial motion will remove a case from the Court’s trial docket. For requirements on setting a change of plea hearing, please see Judge Epps’ Standing Order for Change of Plea (available at <https://www.mow.uscourts.gov/judges/epps>).
