PLAINTIFF CLASS COUNSELS' NOTICE OF CHANGE IN ESCROW AGENT

Plaintiffs' Class Counsel, responsible for administering the settlement funds in this and all related matters before the Court, hereby provide notice that the settlement escrow account previously held at Huntington Bank will be transferred to an institutional money market fund offered through Morgan Stanley. This notice is submitted in the interest of full transparency to the Court and all parties.

1. Plaintiffs' Class Counsel have determined that the settlement funds currently held at Huntington Bank will be transferred to Morgan Stanley. The funds will remain in Morgan Stanley's Institutional Money Market Fund.
2. This decision was based on an evaluation of factors including rate of return, account costs, and the product being offered by Morgan Stanley. Morgan Stanley has disclosed the net rate of return, currently 4%, and there are no additional charges or fees to the class.

3. The determination followed consultation among all Class Counsel and a review of a market analysis comparing reasonable and secure options for holding settlement funds.
4. Morgan Stanley operates under the regulatory oversight of the Securities and Exchange Commission and maintains high standards of compliance and institutional strength.
5. The transfer decision was also informed by the ease of use, transparency, and efficiency of Morgan Stanley's platform.
6. This decision does not reflect any concern or criticism of Huntington Bank.
7. Plaintiffs' Counsel have complied with the Court's disclosure requirements regarding all vendors and financial institutions and will continue to do so.
8. Plaintiffs' Counsel have each prepared and are filing the necessary disclosures regarding Morgan Stanley to ensure there is no conflict of interest related to the transfer.
9. Plaintiffs' Counsel will supplement these disclosures promptly should any change in circumstances alter the representations made in any sworn declarations previously filed with the Court.

Respectfully Submitted,
